

Business

Mixson Market Opens — First Move in New Mixson Construction

Business to provide fresh foot traffic to growing development.

By Greg Hambrick | Email the author | 5:00 am

Mixson Market is open for business.

Built as a four-car garage for homes in the three stories above it, the market arrived after several months of remodeling. The market is an important first step in the second phase of development of the larger Mixson site. A pool club and restaurant are also planned nearby.

The Market includes a wine growler station — a rare offering in the Lowcountry. There's also a craft beer selection and wines hand-picked by Bryan Lewis.

The coffee menu includes espresso drinks and coffee. There's also deserts from Jeni's Splendid Ice Cream.

Callie's Charleston Biscuits and products from Ink Meets Paper are available, with plans for more local fare from King of Pops and others.

The retail space has a variety of merchandise, including picnic supplies, with an insulated picnic baskets and colorful reusable cloth napkins.

The menu includes a variety of cheese and charcuterie board options, along with salads and sandwiches. Breakfast items include yogurt, local pastries, yogurt and gRAWnola.